Owner and Chief Executive Officer/Clinical and Forensic Psychological Service Provider Carolina

Behavioral Health Innovations, PLLC

1 Aug 2011-1 June 2013

New Bern, NC

Forensic psychological evaluations for parenting capacity; child protection; competency to handle medical and financial affairs; capacity to proceed; mental state at the time; waiver of fifth and sixth amendment rights; child custody; and general psychological assessment and recommendations. Social Security and VA Disability evaluations.

Clinical therapeutic and assessment services for adults and children with specialization in childhood trauma, childhood behavior disorders, parenting education, PTSD, military PTSD, military adjustment, military family issues, anxiety, depression, and ADHD. Executed and organized daily operations of outpatient mental health services for a staff of five full-time clinicians.

Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention and Treatment (ADAPT)
Program Manager; Mental Health Element Chief/Deputy Flight Commander; Traumatic Stress Response Team Chief
Aug 2009-Aug 2011

Seymour Johnson AFB, NC

Supervised implementation and administration of the Air Force's 2nd busiest ADAPT program, serving an active duty population of over 4.5k while completing substance abuse evaluations and direct patient care, ranging from education to intensive outpatient. Supervised clinical and nonclinical treatment staff serving in the substance use program and the general mental health clinic. Forensic services included completion of commander-directed evaluations, fitness for duty determinations, sanity boards (military equivalent of competency to stand trial/capacity to proceed), and medical evaluation board examinations.

Named "Critical Officer" by Installation Commander for excellence in leadership and directorship of the operations of the mental health clinic. Identified systemic problems with mental health clearance of recruits and Airmen leading to early separation due to mental illness or personality disorder/conduct problems. Pushed Wing/CC to pressure Air Force Medical Operation, as well as Surgeon General of the Air Force, to look deeper into the problems. Problem identification lead to appointment as a critical member of the Airman's Task Force, a leadership organization developed by the 4th Fighter Wing to enhance Airman quality of life and identify Command interest items and solution.

Was appointed by the Installation Commander as the expert on the psychological effects of trauma. Trained and lead TSR team in providing intervention and services following traumatic events on base, in community, and during deployment. First responder to base suicides. TSR members included mental health team, airman and family readiness, and chaplains.

Director of Psychological Health/Deputy Flight Commander; Chief, Mental Health Clinic
Sept 2007-Aug 2009

Keesler AFB, MS

Directed 100% of outpatient mental health services while providing leadership for 25 providers and 18 support staff. Executed the behavioral health optimization program and developed productivity standards in family practice and internal medicine, resulting in a 35% increase in comprehensive behavioral health services to over 56k beneficiaries, saving $325k per year in network referrals.

Selected as the sole consultant to the Wing Commander and Medical Group Commander for improving the psychological health of the Wing. Provided mental health education/prevention to base at large, statistics and data analysis of mental health trends affecting base, program development and management. Leadership secured 2009 "AETC Behavioral Health Flight of the Year" award.

Executed and provided direct oversight of the clinical operations of second largest mental health clinic in the USAF which serviced over 28k beneficiaries. Ensured compliance with HSI/JC/PS standards. Clinically supervised eight mental health providers ensuring state of the art mental health treatment and high return to duty rate. Consultant to medical group regarding high interest patients, joint clinical operations and behavioral health concerns. Provided command consultation, physician consultation. Provided individual, couples, and group therapy, as well as comprehensive psychological assessments. Effectively supervised and managed 15 mental health providers and 10 mental health technicians. Engaged in direct conflict resolution with patients, providers and staff, as well as commanders and civilian personnel. Developed productivity standards that ensured timely, efficient, and acute delivery of services.
